

*My Character, History, Experience, and Purpose.
The Ultimate Diving Adventure.*

My character, my nature, is about having a real purpose in life.

I can function independently.

I do take possession of all tasks entrusted to me as my own and do take full responsibility in conducting thereof and the outcome.

As underlined by the expectations of my previous appointments, I can make informed decisions on short notice with experience in crisis management under difficult circumstances.

Feedback from close friends, clients, colleagues, and superiors underlines the fact that I always conduct myself in a professional manner and that I have succeeded in building and maintaining excellent relations with all parties on projects.

I view myself as a very energetic individual who can endure high levels of pressure without compromising on the quality of the expected output.

I set high standards and lead by a disciplined example.

I am known to have a good sense of humor and a keen participant in endurance sports.

I do maintain an above-average standard of fitness.

I believe that I will continue to set high standards and deliver work of high quality as all the companies, clients, and personal friends have become accustomed to.

History.

- 2 years of Military service was compulsory for every 16-18-year-old South African male citizen, whereby I have completed a total of 3 years as an infantry combat soldier.
- Afterward, it was time to build a career, I qualified as an HVAC technician, however, that was not what was flowing in my veins.

Maritime experience,

- Hobie - Cat sailing, Surfing, kayaking, spearfishing, and scuba diving certified ODI Open Water Level 2.
- Commercial diving: Salvage operations.
- My first skipper's accreditation I achieved in 1986 upgraded to a SAMSA 9 meter and above, conducting a commercial fishing operation.
- Operational, Beach/surf launch in Plettenberg Bay South Africa.

I relocated to Durban South Africa to further my sailing experience, whereby I was certified as an RYA Yacht skipper Cat B. Extensive sailing up the north coast of Africa and Mozambican channel on board a Sovereign 54 mono hull as support skipper and crew.

Onwards upgrading to Yacht skipper Cat A, and sailed a Catana 471 carbon-infused catamaran on extensive Indian Ocean island adventures.

Due to my military qualifications and experience,

- In 2006 I was offered a PSD (personal security detail) position in Iraq.
- I was Vetted as a US Department of Defence Military (DOD) contractor in 2006.
- I worked in Iraq and onwards to Afghanistan as a USAF-vetted contractor conducting Helo operations in Helmand province, etc
- My time period as a DOD and USAF Military contractor is a total of 12 years.
- 3 years in Iraq. 8 Years in Afghanistan and 1 year in Central, and North East Africa.

Regardless of the role,

Be it in a humanitarian supportive role, a specific country, or a nation, my outlook will always be the same.

Complex Humanitarian Emergency

Where did the money come from for me to make such bold statements?

- I have worked for US companies for over a 12-year period, earning an above-average salary and saving a big chunk of my salary per month, investing in commodities.
- I have accumulated a substantial financial portfolio that is growing and not funds stagnating therefore I do make statements as per this Facebook page offering refundable Co-Ownership in a magnificent sailing yacht to members of The Ultimate Diving Adventure.

What is the purpose of The Ultimate Adventure?

- Adventure with like-minded people,
- Exploring islands, and mountain hikes (we are not going to dive 10 hours a day)
- Meeting the local people in villages, away from the glitz and glamour of popular beachfront resorts.
- Renting scooters, and bicycles, and exploring - having fun at the same time.
- Having lunch at a local village street corner café.
- Play beach volleyball.
- Exploring the Islands secluded bays with the SUP boards and kayaks.
- Sharing experiences and knowledge.
- Based on a time schedule that suits Co-owners only...
- Weather permitting, if any bad weather then we pick up anchor and sail to the lee side of the island...
- Making memories
- Having a life worth living...
- All about real friends for life.
